Elektro-Automatik

Graduate to EA Testing

We have created a special Academic Discount Program designed to ease the burden of upgrading your equipment by increasing your purchasing power. The bottom line is reduced prices on EA Elektro-Automatik equipment to all qualified university, college and research laboratories.

Our premier instruments are not only among the highest performing testing products on the market today, but also the most economical when you purchase through our Academic Discount Program. Their ease of use, common interface touch screen and robustness make them ideal for inexperienced users. Make EA your academic resource for innovative, research and development and power test equipment.
